ABSTRACT

Mountain range in Indonesia will result in areas that have passed contours resulting from the eruption for many hundreds of years ago. The resulting contour can be used as an area that can be developed as residential. This contour also can make an area to be 'pretty' for the tourism. Trawas region that located on the slopes of Mount Penanggungan and Mount Welirang has contours that deserves to be a tourist attraction. The resort is built to maximize introduction of the area to the travelers. With the resort, visitors are given the facility to enjoy the Trawas region. a resort with a hotel that was built not only as major facilities for visitors in the area, but also as an icon of the area that makes people enthusiastically came to the area. The theme of "Hydrologic Cycle" is selected in this resort because Trawas area have become the iconic areas of clear water. The selected themes developed a reference design for Trawas Mountains valley hotel and resort.

Keywords: hidrologic cycle, hotel, resort