Badminton is one of the most popular sport with the highest achievement compared to the other kind of sport in Indonesia. Nevertheless, the development of this racket sport is tend to be falling down in the past few years. The lack of regeneration, minimum facilities, and the lack of competition being held to train the ”young guns” and to spot the local seeds, are consider to be the classic problems that still remain.

To solve the problems, the needs of a place which can act as a container of activities, a center of the development, and as an ”enginee” to enhance the achievement, are an absolute necessity. The object titled “ASTEC Badminton Center” is aimed to fulfill those needs, in addition it is consider to act as a symbol of the advancement of Badminton especially in Surabaya and generally in East Java.
