ABSTRACT

Equestrian training center in Batu is a horse training places that cater especially for children - early childhood through adolescence. But this place is open to anyone who wants to practice, or just want to try horse riding activities. Equestrian training center can also be used to assist the therapy for children who suffer with autism. Riding training course also provides classes for children who have an interest in the field of equestrian sports. In this place available in indoor and outdoor riding arenas, restaurant, and shops that provide tools equestrian purposes. With the development of this place, it can preserve itself equestrian sport and can help reduce the number of people with autism in Indonesia.

Keywords: Horse Training, Sports, Children, People with Autism