ABSTRACT

Resort is a place often visited by people right now as a place to take time off with the purpose to out of the routine jobs, out of their own residence. Resort Resort is often visited by both foreign tourists and domestic travelers, but the limitations of the facilities provided are very limited, thereby reducing the comfort of the tourists who visit this place. Object design is expected to give the impression of recreational and educational in terms of appreciating the natural potential available at a resort.

Tourism is an integral part of human life, especially regarding social and economic activities. Indonesia as a developing country in its development stage, trying to build the tourism industry as a way to achieve the balance of foreign trade balance. Tourism is a wide range of tourist activities and supported a wide range of facilities and services provided by the public, employers, government, and local government.