ABSTRACT

Football is one of the popular branch of sports. Suporter become important elements in a football rivalry. Determine the role of motivation suporter participate in the tourney. Energy is a large audience of potential and can be a significant key to successful execution of a football rivalry. Potential can be used as a reference in the development of the stadium that can accommodate events for promoting the game of soccer football in Indonesia.

Objects created with this design theme Dynamic movement. Dynamic theme selection movement is not separated from the presence of suporter become an important element in the match. Suporter can cause high spirit for the players, besides the players can also create a tempo game that can affect the emotions of spectators. Emotional up and down the audience is what made the basic theme of the election Dynamic movement.