Approaching Spatial Econometric for Gross Domestic Regional Product Industry Sector in East Java

Name : Hanik Yunitasari
Nrp : 1307 100 514
Department : Statistika
Supervisor : Dr. Ir. Setiawan, MS

ABSTRACT

Industry sector is one of sectoral that important to create PDRB and development of material economy. A formula of econometric model for gross domestic regional product (PDRB) from industry sector that influenced by the amount of employee, credits for goods and services, credits for. Models investment, credits for and cost employee besides, industry sector is also influenced by region effect of other region. To know what if region effect influence PDRB value industry sector in east java, so that used a spatial econometric method. The result of this examination is beside the amount of employee of sector industry and credits of goods and services, region effect (spatial) is also influence industry sector PDRB value is east java.

Keyword : spatial econometric, data spatial, effect region (spatial), PDRB industry sector